Donation & Giving Policy

Effective Date: October 9, 2026

Last Updated: October 9, 2026

Voluntary Giving

Donations to Empower Her are voluntary and support our ministry mission, activities, and related operating expenses. A donation does not purchase goods or services or provide ownership, membership, or decision-making rights.

Payment Processing

Online gifts are processed through third-party payment providers. Their transaction and privacy terms may apply. Empower Her does not ask donors to send payment-card details by email or through general website forms.

Recurring Donations

If recurring giving is available and you choose it, payments will continue according to the schedule and amount you authorize until you cancel. You can manage or cancel recurring payments through the applicable payment provider or contact Empower Her for assistance.

Refunds and Errors

Donations are generally nonrefundable. If you believe a gift was made in error, was duplicated, or was unauthorized, please contact us promptly. We will review the request and issue refunds when appropriate or required by law. Payment-provider processing rules may affect timing.

Designated Gifts

If you indicate a preferred purpose for your gift, Empower Her will make reasonable efforts to honor that preference when accepted. If the stated purpose cannot be fulfilled, we will contact you when practical regarding available options, subject to applicable law.

Tax Information

A donation is tax-deductible only to the extent allowed by law and based on Empower Her's applicable tax status. Empower Her does not guarantee deductibility. Please consult your tax adviser and retain your payment confirmation for your records.

Privacy and Contact

Donation-related information is handled in accordance with our Privacy Policy and applicable payment-provider practices. For questions or donation concerns, contact Empower Her at info@empower-herministry.org.
