Photography & Video Policy

Effective Date: October 9, 2026

Last Updated: October 9, 2026

Purpose

Empower Her may photograph, film, or record ministry events, programs, and activities to document our work, share ministry updates, and promote future activities. This policy explains how we approach photography and recording and how individuals may raise concerns.

Where Recording May Occur

Photography and recording may occur in event rooms, shared gathering spaces, and during public portions of ministry programs. We will make reasonable efforts to provide advance notice through event registration materials, signs, or announcements.

How Materials May Be Used

Selected images, video, and audio may appear on Empower Her's website, newsletters, social media, podcasts, printed materials, event recaps, and future promotional materials. Third-party platforms may have their own sharing and retention practices.

Respect for Privacy and Consent

A general event notice is not a blanket release of every participant's rights. We will seek separate, appropriate consent before intentionally featuring an identifiable person in a personal testimonial, interview, posed promotional photograph, or similar focused use where consent is appropriate or legally required. We will be especially careful with prayer, counseling, and other sensitive interactions; private prayer requests are not public submissions.

Children and Minors

For identifiable featured photographs, interviews, testimonials, or promotional recordings of a person under 18, Empower Her will seek permission from a parent or legal guardian and, where appropriate, the minor's agreement. We may also limit or avoid recording minors even when permission is offered.

Privacy Concerns and Recording Preferences

If you do not want to be intentionally featured, please notify event staff before recording begins or email info@empower-herministry.org. We will make reasonable efforts to respect requests, such as identifying an area away from cameras or avoiding close-up photographs. We cannot guarantee that every person will be absent from wide-angle crowd footage or live recordings.

Requests About Published Material

If a published photo or recording raises a privacy or safety concern, contact info@empower-herministry.org with the event, approximate date, and a link or description of the material. We will review the concern and consider reasonable measures, including removal or editing where feasible. We cannot promise removal from third-party reposts, downloads, or archives outside our control.

Storage and Sharing

Empower Her may share media with authorized staff, volunteers, and service providers who help create or distribute ministry materials. We will handle personal information in accordance with our Privacy Policy and applicable law. Media is not guaranteed to be retained for a fixed period.
